

Constance Bridgeman Centre values are British Values.

At the Constance Bridgeman Centre:

- We enable students to develop their self-knowledge, self-esteem and self confidence
- We enable students to distinguish right from wrong and to respect the civil and criminal law of the country
- We encourage students to accept responsibility for their behavior, show initiative and understand how they can contribute positively to the lives of others, but in the school and wider community
- We encourage respect for other people
- We further tolerance and harmony between different cultural traditions by enabling students to acquire an appreciation of and respect for their own and other cultural traditions
- We encourage respect for democracy and the democratic processes; and
- We promote an understanding of the importance of identifying and combating discrimination.

Leaders and managers ensure that pupils' welfare is actively safeguarded. Staff training and school systems promote vigilance and ensure that we work effectively with other agencies to support pupils at risk.

The ethos and culture of the Centre ensure that any unfair or prejudiced behaviour is challenged and we work hard to ensure that pupils' spiritual, moral, social and cultural development, and by extension, the promotion of British values, are at the heart of our work.
